

Dear Sirs,

Please find my responses below. I am very happy that you have decided to solicit this type of customer feedback into the very broken judicial process.

1. What experience do you have with the state courts?

I have considerable experience with the Family Division in a 3.5 year ongoing divorce which is as acrimonious as possible as has been promoted by the litigious system. This broken system has reigned considerable havoc on my family, my estate, my children and my relationship with my x-wife.

2. Where do you get information about the state courts?

I am not sure what information you are referring to but I find the judicial branch website helpful.

3. How much do you know about how the state courts operate?

Unfortunately I have learned a LOT of how the courts operate. I am very sad to have learned that they do not have the time or inclination to administer justice or provide for objective, non-prejudiced hearings on matters before them. This system has very little accountability and is in need of DRAMATIC reform. They consistently default to the defensive excuse that "you are just upset that a ruling didn't go your way" and do NOT objectively consider the merits of any challenge or objection. I believe that EGO has run riot within the judiciary and the result is a mockery of justice.

4. Are you concerned about the expense of going to court?

8/18/2005