

claim to be doing the people's work but are instead engaged in a nepotistic and repulsive form of back scratching and self-aggrandizement. Conflict of interest seems to abound in these ostensibly objective bodies surrounding and qualifying the Judicial branch's operations.

The people of NH are not as ignorant as some in certain positions of power might think...

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS:

I am both prepared and desirous to provide the Citizen's Commission much more information including the specific Supreme Court precedents I've referenced above, along with specific instances of judicial abuse relative to the operation of the family courts in NH. Now the question is, does the Citizen's Commission and the NH Judiciary really want to know?

Marc Snider

